

NAVY INTENSIFIES EFFORTS TO COMBAT MENACE TO SHIPPING

Two More American Oil
Tankers Fall Prey To Submarines

26 SHIPS ARE SUNK

Heavy Toll of Tankers Increases Probability of Oil and Gas Rationing

(By International News Service)

The Navy intensified its efforts to combat the menace to shipping along the Atlantic seaboard today as two more American oil tankers fell prey to enemy submarines, with the probable loss of 76 lives.

Since January 14, when the Axis U-boats began their daring raids, 26 ships have been acknowledged by the Navy to have been sunk or damaged. Of these vessels 17 were tankers, laden with war-vital oil.

The heavy toll of tankers has increased the probability of gasoline and oil fuel rationing for the Eastern States.

Latest victims of the enemy submarine offensive were the 7,451-ton R. P. Resor and the 10,227-ton W. D. Anderson.

The R. P. Resor was torpedoed early Friday 18 miles off Manassas, N. J., less than two hours' sailing time from New York harbor. An easy target on the moonlit sea, the tanker was staggered by the explosion, which started a spectacular fire.

When last sighted, the R. P. Resor was drifting northward near the spot where the Morro Castle burned with a loss of 124 lives in September, 1934. Only two of the Resor's crew of 43 were known to have been rescued.

The W. D. Anderson was sunk off the Florida coast Sunday night with only one survivor of a crew of 36, the Navy disclosed.

The lone survivor, Frank L. Terry, 23, of Lansford, Pa., told of escaping oil fire by swimming to sea for more than an hour.

"Several of us were talking on the aft deck when suddenly there was an explosion. I went to the starboard side and dived. Just before I hit the water there was a second torpedo explosion. I swam toward the open sea, racing as hard as I could from the spreading fire.

"I was so exhausted I couldn't tell whether I had any legs. I saw a boat, yelled and waved. Somehow they caught sight of me. I damned the Nazis as they pulled me out.

"In spite of my experience I want everybody to know that I'm going back to sea as soon as I'm rested up again."

LATEST WAR BULLETINS

Japan's First Attempt To Land On Java Defeated

Batavia—Japan's first attempt to land invasion troops on Java has been defeated after a furious two-day naval battle in the Java Sea, but the huge fleet of Jap transports and their naval escort were believed late today to be reorganizing for a new thrust.

There is little doubt that the invasion fleet will soon return, informed quarters said.

American and other United Nations sea and air forces scored a substantial victory, but no details of the roaring battle were given. It was declared that both sides had suffered losses.

A Netherlands Indies bulletin said a Jap convoy strongly escorted by war vessels was retreating northward under the fire of the guns of a United Nations naval squadron.

The announcement stated that five Japanese planes were shot down while carrying out raids against various points in Western Java.

British Army Forces Take Control of Rangoon

London—British army forces have taken over control of Rangoon, scorched, Japanese threatened capital of Burma, military authorities in London revealed today.

Authorities revealed this move has been made with indications that Japs had managed to cross the Sittoung River to the north.

The situation in Burma again must be regarded as very serious, it was declared.

Russians Rout Two German Divisions

Moscow—Routing of two German divisions on the southern front in a battle in which 7,500 Nazis were killed, was announced by the Russian high command today.

Soviet troops were reported lashing at the Germans along the entire front and reports said more than 12,000 Germans had been slain.

The 16th Nazi Army Corps was still said to be trapped in the Staraya Russa district.

A new effort by the 16th Nazi Army Corps to break out the Soviet encircling ring was declared to have failed.

MacArthur's Troops Holding Enemy Advance Positions Taken

Washington—Although fighting on Bataan has died down to minor patrol skirmishes, the War Department reported today that General MacArthur's troops are holding all enemy advance positions taken in recent surprising counter attacks.

This was announced by the Department in a communique as both the War and Navy Departments in Washington awaited word on the mighty battle between Japanese warships and those of the United Nations in the Java Sea.

The communique pointed out that as a result of the defenders' counter moves, MacArthur's line now stretches from Abucay on Manila Bay across the peninsula to a point on the China Sea midway between Bagac and Moron.

With 10 charter members in attendance, Sciota Council, No. 233, Degree of Pocahontas, of Doylestown, which was organized in February, 1914, held its 28th anniversary banquet at the Fountain House on Wednesday evening, when 56 members and two guests were present.

The ten charter members included: Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Dieterich, Mrs. Lawrence Rorer, Mrs. Ellen Gillmer, Mrs. Margaret Buehrle, Mrs. Mary Hensel, Mrs. Ida Reese, Mrs. Joseph Windholz, Mrs. Laura Holden and Mrs. Anna Loutz.

A number of members from the first year's class, which was initiated in March, 1914, attended.

Members of the Rotary Club of Doylestown got an inside picture of China when they were addressed by A. Allen Hsiang at the weekly dinner meeting.

The guest speaker, now doing extension work at the University of Pennsylvania, came to the United States from his native land only four months ago. He is a graduate of the St. John's University at Chungking, his native city. Before coming to the United States, Hsiang had been doing service work with the Chinese soldiers in the front lines.

"China of Today" was the topic of the young Chinaman's very interesting talk. He pointed out how the United States and China have always been friendly, but doubly so since the Pearl Harbor incident. "They are in partnership now," is the way he put it.

With Dr. Raymon Kistler, well-known educator and minister, as the guest speaker, 90 men and boys were entertained by the Chalfont Lions Club at the 13th annual father and son banquet. The event was in honor of the local Boy Scouts, and was held in the basement of the Chalfont Methodist Church.

Tomorrow the new dial central office in New Hope goes into operation, telephone subscribers in that vicinity are reminded by Charles F. Beatty, manager for the Bell Telephone Company.

Two In Jehovah Sect Given Year In Prison

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 28—Members of the Jehovah's Witnesses sect who seek draft deferment as preachers were sentenced yesterday by Judge John Boyd Avis, as he sentenced two of them to prison in the U. S. District Court at Camden.

"Members of this sect," the Judge told the prisoners, "don't seem to look beyond, to a day when Hitler might possibly be in power here, when you would not have any religion or be permitted to preach at all."

The defendants, Leonard E. Pierce, 24, of Bridgeton, and Joseph H. Kosak, 25, of Millville, were sentenced to a year and a day each for violation of the Selective Service Law.

Refusing classifications as conscientious objectors, both men failed to report to a work camp at Royalsford, Mass., to which they were assigned by their draft boards.

They were arrested, and although they insisted they should be classified as preachers, Pierce was convicted on Feb. 16 and Kosak on Feb. 18.

MRS. HANNAH SHIVE, ANDALUSIA, IS 103 YEARS OF AGE TODAY

In Spite of First Cold in Six Years She is About The House Each Day

IS BUSY WITH SEWING

Birthday Greetings Began To Arrive As Early As Thursday

ANDALUSIA, Feb. 28—"Aunt Hannah" Shive, Andalusia's grand old lady who today is marking her 103rd birthday anniversary, can boast of something that scarcely a man, woman or child within the United States can boast of—the fact that the slight cold which she has at present is the first in six years, and also that this is the first she has required services of a physician in a period of three years.

What is more she can thread a needle with the greatest of ease—so keen is her eye-sight, and so steady is her hand—and that is also more than many much younger, can say for themselves.

In spite of the fact that she has had an annoying chest cold for the past week which causes a cough, "Aunt Hannah" has been up and about the house each day, and hasn't missed one of her meals. Furthermore she keeps busy at her sewing, her hobby since girlhood. Her present pieces of work are towels, which she is neatly hemming.

Birthday greetings in the form of cards commenced flowing to the home of Mrs. Frederick Vandegrift, Bristol Pike, where Mrs. Shive resides, on Thursday, and each mail since has seen the number increase.

The one who three years ago passed the century mark takes complete care of herself—including bathing, dressing and arranging her hair. In addition to this she eats her three meals daily, keeps an eye to the news of the day, and takes part in repartee with the members of the household, who find her an equal match in wits.

Last week, Mrs. Shive's only nephew died, he being Dr. Howard Seiple, of Center Square, who passed away in Florida. The only relative she now

A Broncho-Bustin' Blonde

(By "The Stroller")

"Billy," the goat, started it all! But the blonde from Bensalem Township took the problem "by the horns" and ended it all!

It appears that "Billy" went berserk, broke the chain which bound him, and proceeded to butt his way out of his stable. Once in the open he did not stop, but seeing a target in the form of a young woman nearby, put his head near the ground and tore away straight for the target. It was a "bull's-eye," and the young woman went down for the "count."

Her mother promptly fainted, and "Billy" prepared to charge again. It was at this point that the blonde neighbor took charge of the situation, grabbed the goat by the horns and held on with might and main. Giving vent to a few yells for help, she was still holding tight to Mr. Billy's prongs when the desperado of the animal world was taken in tow by the first man to come to the aid of the women. The goat was promptly led off to take his punishment in turn.

TYPE OF PEACE SOUGHT IS DISCUSSION SUBJECT

Six Members of Travel Club
Take Part in An Interesting Program

MRS. WALLIN LEADS

A group of six women participated in a panel discussion yesterday afternoon, when Travel Club members gathered in their club home considered the question "What kind of a peace are we working for?"

Mrs. Franklin Wallin lead the discussion period, and seated upon the platform and presenting different phases of the question were Mrs. Harry T. Neher, Mrs. Warren P. Snyder, Mrs. Paul V. Forster, Mrs. Hugh B. Eastburn, and Mrs. Emil Metzger.

The program was based upon a special discussion outline arranged by a nationally-known magazine. In opening her remarks Mrs. Wallin stated that "Before deciding what kind of a peace we are working for, we must realize what we are fighting for." She added that all are anxious to know what kind of a world we are going to live in when hostilities cease, mentioning also that "If we won the last war, we certainly lost the last peace. We don't only want to win this war, but the peace to follow."

For her presentation Mrs. Neher outlined the peace aims of the leaders as she gave the eight points of the Atlantic Charter, also passing along criticism of such by a prominent lawyer. The terms as drawn up by President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill were given briefly, it being pointed out that both insisted that the world must needs be different, a world where men can live in peace.

Mrs. Wallin in presenting Mrs. Forster told of the different manners in which groups and individuals are setting forth their ideas for peace, mentioning work of the national planning board in regard to such. Mrs. Forster at this juncture gave individual opinions and proposals for peace.

The question of Federal Union was ably outlined by Mrs. Eastburn, who

LIVING THE HARD WAY

"You can't make money these days just running a fine restaurant and paying attention to good food," laments "Papa" Moneta, who is closing his restaurant in Mulberry Street, New York City, after a quarter of a century of plying customers with viands and beverages.

"There are no gourmets any more. Everybody is in a hurry. We had people years ago who came in here at 3 o'clock in the afternoon for a cocktail. Then at 6 o'clock they would order dinner. About 9 o'clock they would finish eating and order some brandy or more wine. At midnight or 1 o'clock they would decide to go home. But all that is finished now—no one loves food that much these days."

It is easy to sympathize with "Papa" Moneta and understand his plight. A restaurateur must dispense food and drink not only in quality but also in bulk if he is to thrive. But the picture he has drawn is one of absolute futility. If the patrons of "Moneta's" of the old days represented a considerable segment of New York society, it is just as well that there are no more gourmets.

Of course, it is barely possible that Americans of the metropolis have jumped from the frying pan into the fire. Accounts of modern cafe society aren't particularly edifying. Although they may not be so leisurely as their predecessors, the habits of the bright and dark spots seem to go through a lot of motions which at best are useless and at worst are nauseous. To be the glamor or girl of the year or the No. 1 debutante or the smoothest escort takes so much effort and good cash that in these times the whole affair is an anachronism.

At least, "Papa" Moneta played host to trenchermen of undying fame—"Diamond Jim" Brady consuming dozens of oysters with a meal of gargantuan proportions; Henry C. Frick attacking almost raw steaks; H. L. Mencken, Toscanini, Mary Pickford and others whose names evoke a romantic nostalgia. Americans are beginning to live the hard way and will be forced to continue to live the hard way for many long months to come.

THE DAY WILL COME

The coming of spring will bring more trouble for the German gestapo in the occupied areas of Europe. Spring is the season of new beginnings, and in peace or war the peasant regards it as a season of inventory, a season of discard and a season of planting of the new crop. Certainly the German invaders head the list of debris cluttering the European landscape. Certainly new seeds will be sown that in time will bring the harvest of general revolt.

Nazi-controlled Dutch newspapers are blazing renewed warnings against citizen possession of arms. "Severest consequences" are threatened to persons found owning firearms, explosives, poison sprayers and "weapons capable of inflicting wounds by striking, cutting, piercing and thrusting, such as daggers, camping knives, brass knuckles and rubber truncheons." That is certainly an awesome list, but the terrible uses of such devices is well understood by the Nazis.

The Dutch now talk openly of "hatchet day." That is the day when the citizens, armed with whatever device has been hidden these sad months, will pour forth and—man to man—strike down the German terrorists.

SUNDAY DINNER Suggestions

WAR has served to increase the American vocabulary—even to the kitchen. The housewife has gone "all out" for vitamins; earlier in the year, the weather "blitzed" the vegetable market. Now, eggs and fish—because of the Lenten season—have "priorities" in her market basket.

Good news comes from both the egg and fish front. Egg receipts are heavy, resulting in lower prices. Fisheries report that plenty of butterfish, porgies, sea bass, bluefish and mackerel are arriving from southern waters.

Meat news continues to be optimistic, with no advance in prices over those of the same week a year ago. Specials include ribs, steaks, plate beef, legs and loin chops of lamb, and hams.

Texas vegetables are arriving in increasing volume to swell the overflowing stalls in market—plenty of choice for those who observe meatless days.

Based on the best buys of the current week, Marion Rouse Budd, of the A & P Kitchen, has prepared three menus at different price levels for your next Sunday dinner:

Low Cost Dinner

Bolled Beef with Horseradish Sauce

FASHION PARADE

By Orry-Kelly
(Famous Hollywood Stylist Writing
For International News Service)

HOLLYWOOD, Cal.—(INS)—Probably every woman in the world has some little item in wardrobe that she can't resist. Hedda Hopper, out our way, is famous among other reasons for her insane hats. There's almost a legend now about Hedda's hats. She's expected to wear the extremist ones and will rally lead you through her house and show you her tall, glass cases housing the most fantastic, and smartest, hats in the film capital. Ida Lupino can't overlook a good looking bag or a pair of gloves; nor Bette Davis an unusual belt; nor Madeleine Carroll a pair of beautiful shoes.

We're here to wager that before long the entire feminine world will be collecting and going mad over blouses. Joan Crawford, until now, was alone in her intense love for blouses. She owns around 50 of them.

However, now that suits are so important blouses are bound to be. Most of them are as feminine in guise as the ladies who wear them. However, the strictly man-tailored blouse is still tops in popularity. We'd suggest here and now that only the most feminine looking women wear the strictly tailored blouse because they do de-feminize. Geraldine Fitzgerald, in "The Gay Sisters," wears a great many of this tailored type of blouse, and sports a monocle as well. Only someone as girlish looking as Geraldine could get by with it, but monocle, mannish shirts, slim tailored skirts are all very effective and neat. Who knows, it may start a fad for eye glasses of the type, Heather Angel, you know, often pulls out a monocle and causes people to stare.

I used a great deal of heavy satin for Geraldine's blouses, in one costume lining the jacket of her suit with the same material which was a soft Gen-tian blue.

The most popular suit in town is the dressy silk suit with Godey peplum and of course made for the dressiest in blouses. The fluffy jabots go nicely with these pert quaint little silhouettes. Norma Shearer, with a black faille suit, wears a soft mauve chiffon blouse with regency jabot of black lace. White is usually preferred, however.

The buttons on the newest blouses are items in themselves. The gayest ones usually line up on the simplest shirts as in a short sleeved, white silk shirt that Susan Peters wears with separate skirt. Buttons are "Little Boy Blue" horns of bone suspended from fragile chains. Susan also has a simple white pique blouse with stunning hand-painted butterfly studs.

Don't overlook the growing importance of blouses in the future spring wardrobe. They do round out a wardrobe as nothing else can and there is an infinite variety, this year, from which to choose.

Today's Quiet Moment

(By the Rev. James R. Galley)
Pastor, Bristol Presbyterian Church

Grant Thy blessing, O God, upon all those who are unable to enjoy the blessings of good health and freedom from pain. As they are confined to their homes, unable to partake of the beauties of nature, let them never lose sight of the fact that Thy love pierces the deepest gloom; Thy strength can raise the heaviest burden; Thy presence lightens every burden. Visit them in their afflictions, O Father, and enable them, through their sufferings, to behold Thee more clearly. Through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Children Crave
Chocolate Cake

By Frances Lee Barton

ALTHOUGH chocolate cake is popular with all ages, it stands particularly high on the children's dessert list. In fact, I believe "ice cream" may be its only rival. So why not purchase some vanilla ice cream and combine these two favorites. Then, there will be no doubt whatsoever that Chocolate Fleck Cake a la Mode will rate number one on your child's "dessert parade" — and will very likely rate the same on your own list.

Chocolate Fleck Cake

2 squares unsweetened chocolate, grated; 2 1/4 cups sifted cake flour; 2 1/2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder; 1/2 teaspoon salt; 1/2 cup butter or other shortening; 1 1/2 cups sugar; 3 egg whites, unbeaten; 3/4 cup milk; 1 1/2 teaspoons vanilla.

Grate chocolate on coarse grater. Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, and salt, and sift together three times. Cream butter, add sugar gradually, and cream together until light and fluffy. Add egg whites, one at a time, beating thoroughly after each. Add flour, alternately with milk, a small amount at a time, beating after each addition until smooth. Add vanilla. Fold in grated chocolate. Bake in two greased 8-inch layer pans in moderate oven (375° F.) 30 minutes, or until done.

BENSALEM DROPS WRESTLING MEET TO LANSDALE TEAM

Owls Lose by 30-21 Score in Match Staged At Lansdale

LIGHTWEIGHTS FAIL
Silcox, Reed, Deans, Reef and Stackhouse Are Local Winners

By Jack Gill
Bensalem dropped a 30 to 21 decision on the wrestling mat at Lansdale last evening. Lack of success in the lighter class matches, in which most of the Owl performers are inexperienced, was one of the main causes of defeat.
At the start of the school year Bensalem decided to drop wrestling. Previously, George Reimer, head athletic director and former P. & M. mat captain, directed wrestling and John Slaven took care of basketball. But Reimer moved to Swarthmore High School as assistant coach and Slaven went to Camp Croft. New Coach Woody Wetherhold couldn't take care of both basketball and grappling.
But Melvin Mack accepted a position as a teacher in the lower grades and Bensalem had an experienced former college matman in its midst again. Largely through the efforts of Mack, meets were picked up and interest again stimulated.
Arnold Stackhouse was Bensalem's only winner in the lighter classes against Lansdale. He won his fourth straight over Jim Wright on a fall after 3 minutes and 19 seconds of action.
Captain Roy Silcox kept up his good work by tabbing a decision over Bronchato in the 165 pound class. Bob Reed, sophomore Johnny Deans, Al Settle and Reef were other Bensalem winners.

TO PLAY THREE GAMES IN PLAY-OFF SERIES

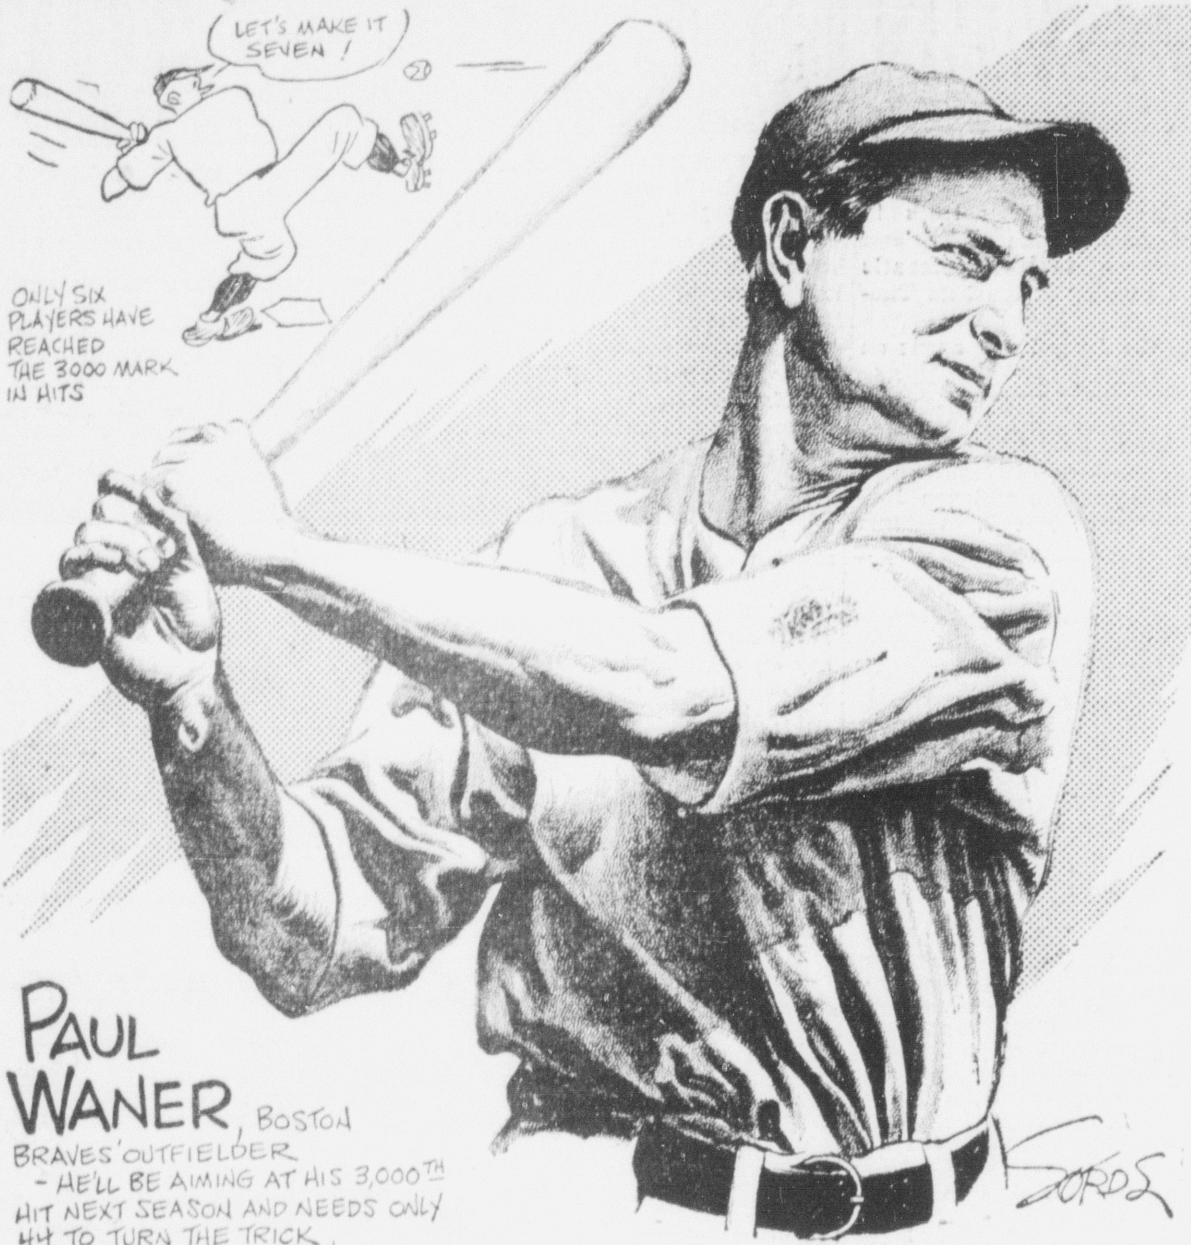

The playoff series of the Bristol Basketball League has been increased from three games to five games. The first of these games will be played Monday night on the Mutual Aid floor. This was decided at a meeting of the circuit held in St. Ann's club-house last night.
Manhattan A. A., winner of the second half of the league, will meet the first half champions, P.S.'s. In the preliminary game Monday night, the "rubber" game between Franklin A. C. and the Fifth Ward Sporting Club will be played.
"Henny" Morgan was appointed referee for the series. Timekeeping for the preliminary games will be done by Edward Bartle while Thomas Jono will do the timing for the playoff game. Leo Scharr will mark the scoring.
The officials have also decided to have a different seating arrangements for the playoffs, deciding to send youngsters who do not pay the full admission price to the balcony.

Type of Peace Sought Is Discussion Subject

told of the need for the United States to take part in the peace to follow the present world configuration, rather than to pursue a program of isolationism. She told of the plan for federal union as outlined by Clarence Street in his book "Union Now," adding that federal union is often misrepresented. She told how hundreds are volunteering their services in the cause realizing the merits of some such plan, and calling attention to the fact that the world has "shrunk." Her concise explanation of the plan was in such manner that it was pointed out how each country would retain its own customs and form of government, yet each country would benefit by the sharing of resources, the setting up of a system of world government, etc.
Mrs. Snyder answered the question "Shall America isolate herself, take the middle course, or have a leading part in the peace which will follow the war?" The latter, it was decided is the best and only course open for the betterment of conditions of the peoples of the world.
"Should nations, like men, be their brother's keeper?" was the question assigned to Mrs. Metzger. Her excellent presentation, covering many phases of the problem, was summed up in these words: "We all know the answer to the question 'Are you your brother's keeper?' You are!"
Requesting permission to comment upon the question, "Mrs. William Duhamel said in part 'How little we hear of the Kingdom of God, which alone will make such conditions possible! The Kingdom of God on earth! Beginning in the hearts of men! The only regime which will be successful in bringing peace to the world will be founded on Christ. We can't have peace unless we have that good-will in our hearts. We cannot get along as nations unless we develop a deeper spirituality. We must all recognize a Supreme Being—that is the only thing that will win peace." Mrs. Henry E. Ancker told of how similar thoughts were expressed in a radio presentation this week by a young college student.

In conclusion Mrs. Wallin reminded that "This question is the responsibility of each of us in a Democracy. What we each think and do is what counts. Peace will be the result of co-operation, thinking, planning and prayer. The war is just a means to the end, and the peace is the end."

A suitable introduction to the program was the vocal offering "The White Cliffs of Dover" by Mrs. Charles I. Bowen, who was accompanied by Miss Winifred V. Tracy.
During balloting on memberships Miss Tracy and Mrs. George J. Irwin served as tellers. An amendment to the club by-laws was submitted for consideration, this being in regard to changing the hour of meeting from three to 2:30 o'clock.

has three nieces, who themselves have reached advanced ages.
A native of Ironhill, Hiltown Township, in upper Bucks County, the centenarian first saw the light of day on the 28th of February, 1839. Since that time she has seen unusual activity and great news stories brought about by numerous wars—the Civil War, the Spanish-American War, World War I and World War II.
Mrs. Shive, widow of Dr. Peter C. Shive, is the daughter of the late Enoch and Louise Cressman Seiple. When a girl she attended school at New Britain, and during her young womanhood was a dressmaker and milliner, learning her trade at Doylestown.
Some years ago she resided with a niece in West Philadelphia, coming to Andalusia six years ago. A follower of the Lutheran faith she was confirmed in the old Hiltown Lutheran Church.
Many callers are expected throughout the day, Mrs. Shive's birthday always being an event which relatives and friends do not forget. She enjoys looking over from time to time the cards she received on previous birthday anniversaries.

A dramatic story of six days and five nights in an open boat after his cargo ship had been torpedoed in the North Atlantic early this month was related by a British sea captain, recuperating in a Long Island hospital. Wilford George Evans, the ship's master, told how his vessel was rocked by a torpedo that "hit on the port side amidships."

After abandoning ship, he related, the enemy submarine surfaced. "Men came out of the conning tower. They manned a couple of guns and started to shoot at my ship. They must have fired 70 rounds in half an hour. She stood up like a battleship until they pounded her to death."
Only 15 members of his crew of 71 survived.
On the heels of the tanker torpedoing came a report from the Sixth Naval District in Charleston, S. C., of another sinking not due to enemy action.
The 5,030-ton freighter Cassimir went down Thursday morning after colliding with an unidentified vessel. A rescue ship brought 31 crew members to Charleston along with five bodies. Two members of the crew are missing.

FURIOUS BATTLE IS NOW RAGING ON THE ISLE OF JAVA

Japanese Units Fight Desperately For Complete Possession

LAST N. E. I. Stronghold

United Nations Troops Strike On Land, In Air, and On the Sea

By Joseph A. Bors
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Mar. 2—American and United Nations troops furiously battled Japanese units on the Island of Java today as the invading enemy desperately fought for complete possession of the last stronghold of the Allies in Dutch East Indies.

Washington anxiously awaited latest reports from Java as American, Dutch, British, Australian and British forces struck at the Japanese on land, air and sea to prevent a repetition of the fate of Singapore.

Incomplete dispatches from the fighting fronts indicated that the Japanese were paying a stiffer price for their gains in Java than they have anywhere since the Pacific conflict was precipitated 13 weeks ago.

Military men studied advices from the East Indies with ill-concealed anxiety as they admitted that the fate of Java would determine the course of the war for the United Nations in the months to come.

War analysis asserted that loss of the Netherlands East Indies would force the United Nations to fall back to Australia and New Zealand, prolong the war many months and aggravate the plight of Gen. Douglas MacArthur's Philippine defenders.

Early reports indicated that Japan was paying a heavy price in warships, troop transports and manpower for their invasion of Java—losses which may hasten the offensive promised against Nippon by American high officials.

Meanwhile, in the Philippines MacArthur's forces continued to hold land gains made in the recent surprise.

LATEST WAR BULLETINS

Russian Offensive Moves Forward

Moscow—The Russian offensive was still moving forward today after repulsing powerful Nazi counter-attacks and destroying scores of German transport, bombing and fighting planes. Soviet reports said the Germans had hurled increasing numbers of tanks and planes into their counter-offensive in an effort to halt the Red army advance and permit completion of plans for a promised German thrust. (A Turkish radio commentator said it was estimated Germany and other Axis powers were assembling 1,650,000 troops for use in a Spring offensive against Russia, while the Russians were massing about 1,200,000 to meet the anticipated drive.)

Demand MacArthur's Appointment To High Post

Sydney—The Sydney Daily Telegraph today demanded the appointment of General Douglas MacArthur as commander-in-chief of the United Nations forces in the Pacific. "MacArthur has all the qualities required," the newspaper declared. "He is dynamic, courageous and aggressive, and unlike most of the Generals on our side, his name is already a terror to the Japanese and a pick-me-up to the morale of the people of the Pacific."

Plane Battle Is On Over English Channel

London—British and German planes were battling over the English Channel today and observers reported heavy firing which might have been naval guns. The air battle over the channel followed a heavy shelling of the Dover coast by German guns on the French coast.

Planes of Possible German Origin Bomb Bataan

Washington—With troops of the United Nations battling furiously to save the Island of Java, the War Department today reported that on the Bataan front black painted planes believed to be of German manufacture have been bombing the forces of General Douglas MacArthur.

With officials awaiting further reports on the battle raging in Java, the War Department in a communique told of the appearance over Bataan of the strange two-engine bombing planes with white crosses on their wings.

The Department said the aircraft may have been German-built planes which Japan is believed to have in reserve.

Temporary Halt In Japanese Landings

United Nations Headquarters, Bangkok—Violent United Nations counter-offensive action today brought at least a temporary halt to Japanese landings on the Island of Java after the enemy lost the bulk of a new invasion army off Rembang.

As the Netherlands Indies news agency Aneta made known that no new enemy landings have been reported anywhere in Java since the initial three-pronged offensive, a special communique told of a slashing attack by Dutch fighter aircraft against a Japanese army seeking to reach shore from 20 transports.

An undisclosed number of N. E. I. planes took off from a base and arrived to discover hundreds of Japanese troops, equipped with tanks and other weapons, being ferried ashore from 20 transports. Almost every one of the heavily-laden barges, crowded with men and materials, was sunk by light bombs or machine-gun fire. One tank in the process of being unloaded was set afire and toppled into the sea by its crew. Other tanks which already had been put ashore were set on fire.

RELEASE NEW FILM FOR FIRST-AID INSTRUCTION

Red Cross Announces The Picture "Before The Doctor Comes"

2076 FIRST-AID CLASSES

A ready-made audience that may shatter feature film attendance records is waiting for a motion picture, the release of which was announced today by the American Red Cross.

Ralph T. Senter, chairman of the Disaster Preparedness and Relief Committee of the Southeastern Pennsylvania Chapter of the American Red Cross, which is raising $2,500.00 as this area's share of the national $65,000.00 War Fund, was notified by Washington headquarters that the film has been made available for first aid training classes.

It is called "Before the Doctor Comes" and is designed to supplement the work of first aid instructors in procedures and techniques to be followed at the scene of an accident or catastrophe such as a bombing.

Mr. Senter pointed out that the care given an injured person pending medical treatment may easily mean the difference between life and death.

An indication of the size of the audience awaiting this film is the fact that applications for first aid instructions are pouring in to Red Cross agencies throughout the United States at the

AIR WARDENS TO MEET

There will be a meeting tonight at eight o'clock for all air wardens of sector one, sixth zone, at 1776 Farragut avenue.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN
(I. N. S. Staff Writer)

The OGD has employed a writer to travel around the country and get human interest stories and we are fixing an interview for him.

We want him to meet our block air raid warden who has been wearing a piece of old petticoat for an arm band for six months.

Our block air raid warden bought his own flashlight, anted up for the rent of the zone headquarters, thinks it a privilege to freeze on his post at night and is sure everything will come out all right.

When everybody else was frothing about rhythmic dancers, six-day bicycle riders and poets horning into the cushy posts our block warden said: "Sure my feet ache but what of it?"

When he heard that he and everybody was "complacent" he thought of running around his post shouting and screaming and then he figured that "wouldn't accomplish anything."

He's a strange guy, this block warden. The OGD's recorder of human interest stories ought to meet him.

Thought for the day: It takes all kinds but should it?

Congress Holds The Cards

Washington, Feb. 28. IF it were not that Mr. Roosevelt is the Commander-in-Chief in a time of national peril, the criticism of him would be much more outspoken.

What imposes restraint is reluctance to contribute to national disunity and a desire not to harass a heavily burdened national leader.

HENCE, a good many, in Congress and out, have refrained from personal attack and unhappily "gone along" against their judgment, blaming the subordinates and hoping that in time the President would correct his mistakes, accept the counsel of experience and rid himself of the weaknesses which prevent the full weight of the nation from counting effectively and threaten us, if not with defeat, with disasters almost as great. The wisdom of this restraint is now being questioned by a number who heretofore counseled it.

PARTICULARLY, it is questioned by those who appreciate that nearly 20 months were wasted before Mr. Roosevelt could be induced to adopt an effective organization for war production; that it required an outburst of public resentment to even partially clean up the unsavory OGD mess; that only under threat of action by a Senate committee did he end the awful disorder of the sixteen uncoordinated housing authorities; that he has taken no step to support those who are fighting to regain, through retrenchment, control over Federal finances; that he is permitting defense money to be wasted beyond all reason; that a confusion exists so great that the minority of efficient men are mired in it, like the rest.

REVIEW of the past year is enough to show that Mr. Roosevelt moves

A NATIVE OF ITALY

Died En Route To Hospital In Trenton; Possible Skull Fracture

MORRISVILLE, Mar. 2—A native of Italy, who for the past year had been employed at the King Farms, was the victim of a fatal hit-run accident early yesterday morning.

The dead man is: Giuseppe Stagliano, 47. Stagliano was found lying along Bristol Pike, near here, at about 12:35 o'clock, by a passing motorist, who notified Trenton, N. J., police, at the police radio room in that city.

Word was flashed to Chief of Police Albert Cooper, here, who investigated. The injured man was removed to Mercer Hospital, Trenton, in the Trenton police ambulance. He died before reaching that institution, and the body was subsequently removed to a morgue in Trenton.

It is believed that death was due to a fractured skull, Stagliano having a deep head gash.

The man, who had on his person an alien registration card, made out February 26th, had resided with a family at King Farms. Little is known about his family. It is stated by some who knew him, that he had a son at Fort Dix, N. J., and efforts are being made to verify this.

No plans have been made as yet for the funeral.

Chief of Police Cooper states there are a few "leads" in connection with the car striking the man, but no definite information has been gained.

It is presumed that Stagliano was en route home from Trenton when struck. He was found lying on the left side of the thoroughfare.

Moon To Have Black-Out

PHILADELPHIA, March 2—(INS)—All the countries on the world have been doing it, so it seems logical, almost, that the moon should have a blackout, too. And that's just what's going to happen tonight beginning at 6:31 p. m. E.W.T. At 7:33 p. m. the eclipse will be total and will last for one hour and 37 minutes. The "blackout" will be over at 10:12.

Owls Lose by 30-21 Score in Match Staged At Lansdale

LIGHTWEIGHTS FAIL

Silcox, Reed, Deans, Reef and Stackhouse Are Local Winners

By Jack Gill

Bensalem dropped a 30 to 21 decision on the wrestling mat at Lansdale last evening. Lack of success in the lighter class matches, in which most of the Owl performers are inexperienced, was one of the main causes of defeat.

At the start of the school year Bensalem decided to drop wrestling. Previously, George Reimer, head athletic director and former F. & M. mat captain, directed wrestling and John Slaven took care of basketball. But Reimer moved to Swarthmore High School as assistant coach and Slaven went to Camp Croft. New Coach Woody Wetherhold couldn't take care of both basketball and grappling.

But Melvin Mack accepted a position as a teacher in the lower grades and Bensalem had an experienced former college matman in its midst again. Largely through the efforts of Mack, meets were picked up and interest again stimulated.

Arnold Stackhouse was Bensalem's only winner in the lighter classes against Lansdale. He won his fourth straight over Jim Wright on a fall after 3 minutes and 19 seconds of action.

85 lb.—Paulick, Lansdale, decided Wetzell, Bensalem.

95 lb.—Cooper, Lansdale, threw Reedman, Bensalem, 1:04.

103 lb.—Cobert, Lansdale, decided D. Reed, Bensalem.

112 lb.—Stackhouse, Bensalem, threw Wright, Lansdale, 3:19.

120 lb.—Covelins, Lansdale, pinned Casperaz, Bensalem, 41 sec.

120 lb.—Reef, Bensalem, threw Barkley, Lansdale.

133 lb.—Policciario, Lansdale, decided Settle, Bensalem.

138 lb.—Lightcap, Lansdale, decided Geiges, Bensalem.

145 lb.—Deans, Bensalem, pinned Silbert, Lansdale, 1:35.

155 lb.—Reed, Bensalem, decided Farr, Lansdale.

155 lb.—Silcox, Bensalem, decided Bronchato, Lansdale.

TO PLAY THREE GAMES IN PLAY-OFF SERIES

The playoff series of the Bristol Basketball League has been increased from three games to five games. The first of these games will be played Monday night on the Mutual Aid floor. This was decided at a meeting of the circuit held in St. Ann's club-house last night.

Manhattan A. A., winner of the second half of the league, will meet the first half champions, Profy's. In the preliminary game Monday night, the "rubber" game between Franklin A. C. and the Fifth Ward Sporting Club will be played.

"Henny" Morgan was appointed referee for the series. Timekeeping for the preliminary games will be worked by Edward Bartle while Thomas Juno will do the timing for the playoff game. Leo Schara will mark the scoring.

The officials have also decided to have a different seating arrangements for the playoffs, deciding to send youngsters who do not pay the full admission price to the balcony.

Type of Peace Sought Is Discussion Subject

told of the need for the United States to take part in the peace to follow the present world conflagration, rather than to pursue a program of isolationism. She told of the plan for federal union as outlined by Clarence Street in his book "Union Now," adding that federal union is often misrepresented. She told how hundreds are volunteering their services in the cause realizing the merits of some such plan, and calling attention to the fact that the world has "shrunk." Her concise explanation of the plan was in such manner that it was pointed out how each country would retain its own customs and form of government, yet each country would benefit by the sharing of resources, the setting up of a system of world government, etc.

Mrs. Snyder answered the question "Shall America isolate herself, take the middle course, or have a leading part in the peace which will follow the war?" The latter, it was decided is the best and only course open for the betterment of conditions of the peoples of the world.

"Should nations, like men, be their brother's keeper?" was the question assigned to Mrs. Metzger. Her excellent presentation, covering many phases of the problem, was summed up in these words: "We all know the answer to the question 'Are you your brother's keeper?' You are!"

Requesting permission to comment upon the question, "Mrs. William Duhamel said in part 'How little we hear of the Kingdom of God, which alone will make such conditions possible! The Kingdom of God on earth, beginning in the hearts of men! The only regime which will be successful in bringing peace to the world will be founded on Christ. We can't have peace unless we have that good-will in our hearts. We cannot get along as nations unless we develop a deeper spirituality. We must all recognize a Supreme Being—that is the only thing that will win peace." Mrs. Henry E. Ancker told of how similar thoughts were expressed in a radio presentation this week by a young college student.

In conclusion Mrs. Wallin reminded that "This question is the responsibility of each of us in a Democracy. What we each think and do is what counts. Peace will be the result of co-operation, thinking, planning and prayer. The war is just a means to the end, and the peace is the end."

A suitable introduction to the program was the vocal offering "The White Cliffs of Dover" by Mrs. Charles I. Bowen, who was accompanied by Miss Winifred V. Tracy.

During balloting on memberships, Miss Tracy and Mrs. George J. Irwin served as tellers. An amendment to the club by-laws was submitted for consideration, this being in regard to changing the hour of meeting from three to 2:30 o'clock.

Mrs. E. Linton Martin presided at the business meeting, and asked chairmen of all departments to present their annual reports to the county chairman by March 1st.

Miss Mary J. Haines mentioned that a food exchange is arranged in connection with the next meeting.

Serving as hostesses were Miss Nora Jones and Mrs. Frederick I. Kraft.

Mrs. Shive, widow of Dr. Peter C. Shive, is the daughter of the late Enos and Louise Cressman Seiple. When a girl she attended school at New Britain, and during her young womanhood was a dressmaker and milliner, learning her trade at Doylestown.

Some years ago she resided with a niece in West Philadelphia, coming to Andalusia six years ago. A follower of the Lutheran faith she was confirmed in the old Hilltown Lutheran Church.

Many callers are expected throughout the day. Mrs. Shive's birthday always being an event which relatives and friends do not forget. She enjoys looking over from time to time the cards she received on previous birthday anniversaries.

Plan An Addition To Mill at New Hope

Meeting with the directors was Ralph Simonton, general manager of the Union Paper Mills, who presented plans for the new structure which will be an addition to the present plant to be built about 80 feet by 80 feet in size on the New Hope end of the present plant.

After careful consideration, the association assured the paper mill management that they would co-operate in every way and would not object to any addition to the plant at this time, especially because of the fact that the new addition will be used to manufacture war orders.

It is also planned to open a drive for new members for the association in early Spring.
